THE STEEPLECHASE TRAINER

In their effort to improve major track steeplechasing and to analyse sources of weakness in the process, well wishers of the sport have often become prone to criticise steeplechase trainers. They observe that many of the older men, who got their start as timber race riders and came to the major tracks via the hunt meetings, now seem more anxious to get flat horses than brush horses and that some of them have abandoned the jumping game altogether. They point to the relative increase in hurdle horses as a sign that the younger men won't take the time to teach their horses to jump and back up their statements with figures as to the success of imported jumpers. Finally they claim that trainers do not cooperate in filling races—that they keep horses in the barn when they could be racing through the infield.

One of the latest criticisms is directed toward the group of trainers which, when polled by the management of the Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association, expressed a preference for the small, rather than the big course. While deploring the abandonment of the big course for stakes competition, we do not think it quite fair to blame the trainers. The question they were asked is comparable to enquiring whether they would rather have been the trainer of Elkridge or of Citation, whether they would prefer steeplechasing and $23,500 or flat racing and $100,000.

Certainly there is no finer group of sportsmen than our steeplechase trainers. At the same time they have to eat. It has been estimated that if the stakes won by Elkridge had been comparable events on the flat, his earnings would have totalled better than $2,500,000. As compared with getting an early two-year-old into the winners circle, the development of a brush horse takes infinitely more time, patience, skill and money.

The basic reason for this economic disparity, as we have so often pointed out before, is that steeplechase interests have never yet succeeded in persuading the two dollar bettor that jumping races are good investments. In our issue of May 20th we published a most significant group of figures compiled by the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association showing that in 1954 the favorites in jumping races won 48% of the time, in flat races 32%, that during the first two weeks at Belmont this year the ratio in jumping races was 63% as compared with 34% in flat races. Nevertheless, until figures can be driven home and betting habits changed, the trainer has got to face the facts as they are.

Obviously the governing bodies of racing, track management and owners are in a superior economic position. It is to them, rather than to trainers, that we must look for improvements in steeplechasing. It is in their power, primarily, to increase the amount bet on jumping races; to raise purses in consequences; to build a variety of courses (as in France) which will give a much larger number of jumpers opportunities to race in accordance with their age and education; and which will give the public as well as the owner the thrill of watching the older horses race over the big brush.

"Hits Nail On The Head"

Dear Sir:

The following, written by steeplechasing's good friend, Evan Shipman, in the Morning Telegraph hits the nail on the head.

"Devoted as we are to steeplechasing, we could not but hear with keenest regret that the trainers, by majority vote have expressed a wish to race this season over Delaware Park's inner course rather than the severe and exacting but extremely interesting outside course which has, up to now, been employed for that association's two important 'chasing features, the Georgetown and the Indian River. In recent seasons, fields for both races have been small, the support from owners and trainers not at all commensurate with the association's generosity, or—to speak a plain truth—with the sacrifice involved in featuring this type of race. If Delaware Park is to remain in the sadly shrinking circuit of major tracks offering through-the-field sport, the association has a right to demand something other than grudging support. We are well aware that the big jumps in question at Delaware are of a different type than those encountered here at Belmont, at Aqueduct or at Saratoga, but many good horses have been trained to negotiate them safely in the past, and there is at present no dearth of good horses."

We hope that Delaware won't have to succumb and that the big course will live and thrive! It is the same old story:

"Lower and sloping timber fences"
"Earlier horses—shorter races"

Soon we will be running youngsters two furlongs by Thanksgiving time of their yearling year and jumping horses over windrows of hay: What softies we are getting to be!! Willie DuPont has built the best in jumping courses, fair to the nth degree—let's race over them.

Signed,

Steeplechase Enthusiast

Overseas Station

Dear Sir:

I am in Bavaria at present where most of the people are too poor to own show horses, or for that matter even work horses. I have seen many farmers using teams of cattle, oxen or a horse-cow hitch. Farmers do not live on their strips of land as we do in the states; they congregate in clusters of houses or

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

Balmoral-At-Washington — Aqueduct Delaware — Narragansett — Hollywood Raleigh Burroughs

Mr. Milford H. Dinker is what writers of novels would describe as a successful businessman. He has a middle-size farm, a large automobile, a small stable of racehorses, and four grandchildren, and is publisher of a nationally-circulated magazine.

He is not a horse-player in the everyday, every-race sense, but in recent months has developed a strange mania with regard to his punting—he can't resist the temptation to wager on sons and daughters of *Alibhai. If you think this is a good way to go broke, remember Barney Baruch used to bet on all the Happy Argos; and if a gent can stay solvent betting on Happy Argos, there is no telling where a man might go riding along with *Alibhai.

Mr. Dinker did not decide suddenly to put in with Determine's father, like a man decides to give up smoking (he did that too); the betting eccentricity grew on him, cultivated and partly financed by a horse named Alford.

One day late last summer, Mr. Dinker had lunch with Mr. Beverly Rhett, a fast-talking Virginian, and before he knew it was the owner of one-half of a Thoroughbred recognized by The Jockey Club as Knight Alert. Up to that time few others had even noticed the horse, but with Mr. Dinker's money in him, he became the virtual champion of Charles Town, winning three in a row.

Realizing at once that here was a game he could lick, Mr. Dinker decided to expand his stable and went to a sale of horses in training at Belmont Park. For $2,600, he built up to a 1½-horse outfit.

Alford, by *Alibhai, from the *Beau Pere mare, Monogamy, had less in the past performance records to recommend him than Knight Alert. A three-year-old, he had raced a couple of times without making any money, and his lack of activity suggested that something might be wrong.

Trainer Bob Cremen examined the gelding, gave his stamp of approval and went to work. Mr. Cremen is a trainer who loves horses and never is so happy as when squatting underneath one, anointing its limbs with tendon-stretching potions.

Soon Alford was deemed ready and the first time out won his first buck by running fourth at Bowie. Then he ran third.

Last December 11, at Charles Town, he visited the winner's circle for the first time, and was then put up for the winter.

On the last day of March, Alford made his 1955 debut. Newspaper handicappers covering the Bowie meeting said things like "Not here," "Half-miler," and "Won at Charles Town." One of them had said, "Will be maiden a long time," just before Alford graduated at Mr. A. J. Boyle's West Virginia Institution.

This was the one you should have been in on; Alford won and paid $102.20. He has won four races since, six out of eleven since becoming Mr. Dinker's property. His earnings, after he took the second race in Delaware Park's Montchanin Series, totaled $13,100.

Mr. Dinker is finding that there is more to owning horses than just paying for their upkeep and collecting the purses. He is discovering that being the proprietor of a winning animal is affecting his social relations. People that he barely knows, he says, are mad with him, because he didn't tell them Alford was going to win and pay 50 to 1.

Persons who drain the scarcely-sullied oil from his Cadillac and those who pour his V-O on the rocks want to know about Alford's health and when he's going to win again. The gelding has earned a stout following in the York Road section of Baltimore, and, as he has won six of his last nine races, a wave of prosperity has struck the area.

Bookmakers who had survived decades of honest police effort bled, wept and died.

"York Road never had it so good," one tavern habitue' declared. Tabs were cleared up in all bars within a radius of two miles of Mr. Dinker's office. "House-whiskey" drinkers have been buying for strangers.

When Alford runs, oases from 33rd Street to Belvedere Avenue are cleared, as his constituents head for the course. They are the best-dressed, best-heeled horse players anywhere — right now. And they're willing to bet it stays that way. They have found the Midas touch, the pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow and Aladdin's lamp, wrapped up in one honest, dark bay gelding.

Mr. Dinker? He's having more fun than anything, betting on *Alibhais.

Hope he had the one that won the Chicagoan at Balmoral.

Balmoral-at-Washington

June 18. The Chicagoan, 1st running, 3-year-olds, 1 mile. Net to winner, $39,400.

The three-year-olds entered in the Chicagoan, laid side by side, made almost 1¼ columns in the Morning Telegraph. There were 24 of them. Seven scratches cut the starting field to 17.

The winner was one of those *Alibhais that the aforementioned Mr. Dinker follows, Honey's Alibi, and the payoff was $43.80 for each two-buck ticket. The result was something of a surprise. Traffic Judge, because he had won the Withers and had finished third to Nashua in the Preakness, attracted the most money. He made a good run for it, but tired in the stretch.

Honey's Alibi raced in fifth position during the early stages of the race; Don Scurlock had him fourth approaching the far turn and turned him loose in the run for home. The son of *Alibhai—Honeymoon, by *Beau Pere, won by a length and a quarter over Blue Lem. Make Ready was third and Munchausen, fourth.

The $39,400 winner's share gives the dark bay colt $67,350 for 1955. He has won 4, been second in 2 and third in 2 of his 15 starts. He won the Preakness Trial and finished fifth in the Preakness.

Last season he raced 6 times and was second once, earning $1,000.

A. Popara has ridden the colt in most of his races and was aboard for the Balmoral feature.

N. A. McMaster trains.

Bred by Mrs. H. H. Fortune, Tiger Wander was acquired by Mr. Wilson for $4,700, at Keeneland last year.

The initial running of the Balmoral Turf Handicap, on June 11, went to Blue Choir. The Irish-bred colt won by six lengths. Smoke Screen was second, a neck before Salmon Peter, and Sea O Erin was fourth.

Mrs. H. L. Nathenson, owner of Blue Choir, collected $35,200 for the four-year-old's effort. The mutuals payoff was $31.20.

Cascanuez, the 3-to-2 choice showed little after being in tight quarters on the first turn. He finished seventh.

over and drew out to win by  $4\frac{1}{2}$  lengths. Dark Ruler, Blue Quest and Westward Ho followed the leader across the line.

Bunny's Babe, which had beaten several of the Shevlin field only a few days before, was made the choice but didn't make much of a run of it. He finished fifth, after getting up as close as third coming into the stretch.

Besides his win, Gold Box has been second once and third once this year. His earnings total $24,150.

Last year, he earned $13,100 in 9 starts, with 3 wins, 2 seconds and 2 thirds.

Atkinson had the mount in the Shevlin.

John M. Gaver is the Greentree trainer.

Gold Box is by *Heliopolis, out of the Unbreakable mare, Pandora. He was bred by Mrs. W. Kenney. Greentree paid $25,000 for him at Keeneland Sales in 1953.

June 13. The Queens County Handicap, 50th running, 1 $\frac{1}{4}$  miles, 3-year-olds and up. Net to winner, \$20,400.

The Queens County Handicap knocked the lid off the Aqueduct meeting and High Tide Stables' Fabulist knocked off the favorite, among others.

Scent, the property of the J. H. & N. M. Monaghan Farm Company of Denver, took the $13,500 first prize in the Domino Handicap, on June 15. Smoke Screen was second and Precious Stone, third.

By Jamestown—Fragrance, the five-year-old gelding was ridden by Steve Brooks. Erdenheim Farms Co. bred him.

June 18. The Shevlin Stakes, 29th running, 7 furlongs, 3-year-olds. Net to winner, $21,000.

Greentree Stable's Gold Box registered his initial 1955 score by easily trimming his field in the Shevlin.

Georgian set the early pace, with Informant pressing him, while Gold Box raced in the third spot. When Georgian deflated, Gold Box was there to take the lead when Atkinson said the word. He was leading at the eighth pole and made his margin three lengths at the wire. Red Hannigan was second, First Aid third and Paper Tiger, a member of the favored Jacobs entry, fourth.

Fabulist, a roan gelding, now has 5 wins, 2 seconds and 1 third in 9 1955 tries. His earnings add up to $38,425.

G. C. Winfrey trains Fabulist. Ellis Farm bred him.

The $10,000 Hitchcock Steeplechase at Aqueduct Taken by Fulton—Dooley Adams Up

Spectator

Taking the lead at the start of the $10,000 Hitchcock Steeplechase, Sanford Stud Farm's Fulton, under the feathery impost of 132 lbs., made every jump a winning one, withstood a stretch drive and won by two and a half lengths. Nicely ridden by Dooley Adams, Fulton ran a good race, jumped well and put up a very pleasing performance for his owner "Laddie" Sanford who was present to see him run.

Montpelier's Shipboard was closest to Fulton at the wire, and ran a remarkably good race considering his burden of 163 lbs., and was a length in front of Rythminhim, with Coveted fourth some half a dozen lengths back. Curly Joe, Conflict and Jam completed the seven horse field in the order named.

Adams opened up a daylight lead shortly after the break, followed by Coveted, Conflict and Rythminhim and Shipboard. Approaching the first fence, the field was well grouped, and of the five mentioned Shipboard appeared to go deepest into the privet fences on this course, but at the next fence, the water jump, Shipboard, Albert Foot and the 163 lbs., sailed over in a tremendous leap. Rounding the clubhouse turn, and into the backstretch the first time, there was little change in the running order. Jam trailing the field, and threatening to unseat Earl Phelps at each jump.

Passing the stands the second time, with still a mile to go, Fulton had a lead of about three lengths and Coveted was still in second position, but Albert Foot had now moved into third position about a length and a half off Coveted but both Conflict and Rythminhim were right with him. Curly Joe was next but in this race showed little inclination to extend himself at anytime, while Phelps on Jam in last place was doing his best to stay on.

Around the clubhouse turn, Fulton and Coveted were enough in the clear to stay out of trouble, but the three horse team of Conflict on the inside, Rythminhim in the middle and Shipboard on the outside of these two, covered. Rythminhim, slightly behind the others was pinched off, and Paddy Smithwick, his rider, all but had to take up, and did lose several lengths. Approaching the first jump on the far side the last time, Adams let out a notch or two on Fulton, and the pace quickened with Shipboard and Coveted closing the gap, and making a determined effort. However, Fulton maintained a daylight lead, with Shipboard closest as they approached the final jump on the far side. A bobble at this point by Coveted cost him several lengths and his second position as Shipboard went by in chase of Fulton. Rounding into the stretch, Rythminhim had again gotten into contention, and he and Shipboard made a valiant attempt to catch Fulton, but the lightweight had enough left to stave off this last challenge, and crossed under the wire in 3:45½, which while some four seconds off the course mark, was pretty good time, considering the moderate pace for the first turn of the field.

Fulton, an eight-year-old gelding by Head Play out of Larkquest, was a top hurdle horse as a four-year-old, in fact was put over brush in the summer at Saratoga and won over brush as well. Starting the next year, trainer Hollie Hughes ran into trouble with him, and from then on was lightly raced. Over the past year, whatever was bothering Fulton seems to have disappeared, and by careful nursing, Hollie Hughes brought Fulton back to the races last week at Belmont, running a very good third to Montadet and Coveted. Although he was weighted at 132 lbs., in the Hitchcock, his past record, and the manner in which he won, indicates that he will be able to go on in this company and give a good account of himself.

The second leg of the Spring Maiden Steeplechase was run on Tuesday, April 14th, and although only five horses went postward, it was a pretty race to watch with the field well grouped most of the way.

On the strength of his two previous wins this year, Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Ancestor was made the prohibitive choice of less than one to two, but Ancestor, despite all the best efforts of Dooley Adams could do no better than fourth. Paddy Smithwick on Charlie Stitzer's *Another Hyacinth went out to set a moderate pace, with Ancestor, and the eventual winner, Brookmeade Stable's Bavaria in fairly close attendance. Beau

Sir and Khumbaba completed the field, and these five jumped the larger Aqueduct brush fences in good style, but both Ancestor and Khumbaba were a little sticky and lost ground at their jumps.

Approaching the clubhouse turn the second time, Schulhofer on Bavaria and Adams on Ancestor set sail after *Another Hyacinth and the pace quickened perceptibly as these three raced around the turn. Down the far side the last time it was a real horse race with Bavaria getting the advantage, which he increased after clearing the final jump in the stretch and won by three lengths. The ten pound jockey, Custer Cassidy on Beau Sir had not moved when the three leaders quickened around the clubhouse turn, and reserved his mount for one last minute bid which he made rounding into the homestretch, and which carried him by both *Another Hyacinth and Ancestor to gain the runner-up award, some four lengths better than the Stitzer gelding. Three parts of a length further back Ancestor finished a tired fourth.

This was Bavaria's first victory in a steeplechase, and it was worth $7,075 to Mrs. Dodge Sloane. Bavaria is a homebred and is a five-year-old unsexed son of First Fiddle out of Bavardia, she by Blue Larkspur. Under the care of Arthur White, Bavaria won a maiden hurdle race in 1954. This season, he has run several good races over brush, and a recent change in riders seems to have moved him up considerably.

On opening day, Albert Foot made it two in a row over hurdles this year for the Blue Run Farm's Martingle. Never far off the pace, Foot started his move around the far turn, and in fairly close quarters with his contention, from there to the wire, got the judges eye by half a length. *Danny Boy 2nd was next, with Spit'n Polish and Basilia a close up third and fourth. Adams aboard Danny Boy 2nd, lodged a protest with the Stewards claiming that his mount had been run into the hedge on the far turn, by Foot on the winner. The facts of the matter were that Adams on the inside of Spit'n Polish and Martingle, was trying to get the rail position as these three went into the turn. The latter two were lapped and held the advantage at the time, while Adams was moving into a "hole" which started to disappear as the three horses went round the turn. It was not a clear cut situation either way, and in any event the Stewards permitted the result to stand.

Llangollen Farms' The Proff came back to the races on Friday, June 17th, for his first race of the year, and put in a real sharp effort under Scotty Riles to win by three and a half lengths over a good field. The second horse Oneida, was off slowly at the start and lost perhaps a dozen lengths, and then closed with a rush which might have won the race for him had he gotten off. Third and fourth went to Anacostia and Mielaisson. These two broke on top and then set a sizzling pace for about a mile, only to tire in the final stages. The Proff's time for the mile and a half was 2:42½, a little less than two seconds off the course record.

Belmont 'Chasing Statistics

When Belmont Park steeplechasing closed after offering 26 races over brush and hurdles covering a period of April 25 to June 10th, the retired stallion, Montpelier's Battleship (Man o' War—*Quarantine, by Sea Sick) led all the sires in number of wins by his get with 3—his Actinic accounting for 1, and Shipboard, 2—the Corinthian and Meadow Brook Steeplechase Handicaps. However, when it came to 1st monies earned, the Maryland syndicate's *Hunters Moon IV (Foxhunter—Pearl Opal, by Bruleur) had the lead with $17,380 against Battleship's $16,380.

Trainer G. H. Bostwick led his division with 9 wins to his credit—Neji 2, Ancestor 2, Hyvania, Indian Fire, Landscaping, *Hyrcaan, Anacostia—and $38,600 in 1st monies. All the winners in Trainer Bostwick's stable but Hyvania (which races for Mrs. G. H. Bostwick) and *Hyrcaan (which sports Mr. Bostwick's colors) raced in the "Old Rose and yellow" of Mrs. Ogden Phipps, making her the leading owner with 7 wins and $33,595 in 1st monies.

In the jockey department F. D. (Doolley) Adams rode one more winner with 7 than did Flint Schulhofer. However the winners Schulhofer rode earned $30,760 as compared to the $21,350 for Adams.

American-Bred's Success in England

The Zetland Gold Cup at Redcar is one of the most valuable of the handicaps run in the North of England, & this year victory went to W. M. Jefford's Blue Prince II trained at Newmarket by Captain Cecil Boyd Rochfort, who has the Queen's horses under his care at Freemason Lodge.

Blue Prince II is of pure American descent, for he was bred by his owner, being by *Princequillo out of Blue Larkspur's daughter Blue Denim. Carrying 122 lbs he covered the 1¼ miles in 2 minutes, 5½ seconds, finishing two lengths in front of his nearest rival.

This is his third success since he came to England, & the winning stake of over 5,000 dollars raised his total earnings to a figure of more than 15,000 dollars.

Nun's Namesake

A Philadelphia convent probably has the only nun for whom a horse is named. The nun is John McShain's daughter, known as Polly in the outside world; and the horse is Mr. McShain's still unbeaten juvenile Polly's Jet.

Downs Tulips Win Prize

Tulips blooming at Churchill Downs this spring won first prize in the Dixie Bulb Sweepstakes, it was announced last week by the Associated Bulb Growers of Holland, sponsors of the contest. The prize is a free trip to Holland via KLM Royal Dutch Airlines for Louisville Mayor Andrew Broadus and his wife.

Thoroughbred Committee Chairmen

The Thoroughbreds, an organization of women who work in the horse business around Lexington, Kentucky, have announced the following committee chairmen:

Congratulations: Jean Bryant.

Membership: Lillian McCarty.

Publicity: Verlie Covert.

Stationary: Henrietta Clay.

Sympathy: Scottie Farley.

Transportation: Alice Moran.

Geneva Helm has been named Parliamentarian.

Keeneland Training Track Opening Set

The new five-furlong training track at Keeneland is expected to be ready to open by July 1.

IRISH CLASSIC HORSES FOR U. S. A.

On June 5th, three Irish Classic horses left by air for the United States of America. They belonged to Joseph McGrath, Ireland's wealthiest racehorse owner, whose Panaslipper was second in this year's English Derby and whose Arctic Prince won the 1951 English Derby.

They were Flying Story, Ballymartial and Trialmond Slipper.

Flying Story was second to Hugh Lupus in the Irish 2,000 Guineas, and is entered in the American Derby.

Trialmond Slipper won four out of five races this year, including the Free Handicap at Leopardstown.

Ballymartial won the Madrid Plate and beat Hugh Lupus by six lengths.

Another horse on the plane was Paddyshah, consigned to the stables of the American trainer, Peter Tamburo. Paddyshah, is a brother of last year's Irish Derby and Irish St. Leger winner, Zarathustra.

News From the Studs

—CALIFORNIA— Hertz Sells Amarillo

John D. Hertz last week announced the sale of 100 acres of his 120-acre Amarillo Ranch, Canoga Park, Cal. The other 20 acres are being retained as a residence.

Mr. Hertz explained that he was closing out his California breeding efforts, which began in 1947, upon the advice of physicians to avoid as much work as possible. But he will continue to operate Stoner Creek Stud, Paris, Ky., and the racing stable.

At Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Hertz bred the stakes winners Holler, Dark Count, Atomic Speed and Double Speed. The stallions Count Speed and Solidarity, the latter owned by Mrs. Nat Goldstone, stand there. Many of the Hertz mares have been rotated between Kentucky and California.

Mr. Hertz indicated that the mares now at Amarillo will either be sold or be returned to Stoner Creek by Sept. 15, when the California farm will be closed.

—KENTUCKY— Headley Yearlings

J. P. Headley, Lexington breeder, has consigned to the Saratoga Sales a colt and filly by Round View; two daughters of Cosmic Bomb; sons of Discovery, Grand Admiral. *Nizami II, Preoccupy and Rosemont; and fillies by *Big Dipper II, Double Jay, Fighting Fox and Pavot.

Circle M Yearlings

Mrs. Edward S. Moore's Circle M Farm, Lexington, will offer at Keeneland colts by *Goya II, *Noor, Pavot and War Admiral; and fillies by Counterpoint, Menow, *Priam II and Revoked.

Three of the Circle M yearlings are tail female descendants of the remarkable foundation mare Seven Pines.

Twins for Nomadic

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Nomadic, dam of the Los Feliz Stakes winner Whither, recently foaled twin colts by Rosemont at Dan W. Scott's farm, Lexington, where Mr. Vanderbilt's mares are kept in Kentucky. Both foals were saved. The mare has been mated with *Heliopolis.

Stoner Creek Yearlings

Mrs. John D. Hertz's Stoner Creek Stud, Paris, will sell at Keeneland two colts and a like number of fillies by Count Fleet; a son and daughter of Spy Song; colts by Citation and Migoli, and a *Nasrullah filly.

A half brother to Cosmic Missile and a full sister to the recent Belmont Stakes second Blazing Count are among the Count Fleet quartet. Stoner Creek's colt by Citation is a half brother to Count Cain; and the English-conceived colt by Migoli is a half brother to Opera, one of the better English two-year-old fillies last season.

Parlo's Sister

William duPont, Jr., has a suckling full sister to his Parlo, recent winner of the $15,000-added Top Flight Handicap, at Dan W. Scott's farm, Lexington, where the mares of Mr. duPont's Foxcatcher Farms are kept in Kentucky. The dam, Fairy Palace, has been bred once more to *Heliopolis, Parlo's sire.

Elmendorf Yearlings

Max H. Gluck's Elmendorf Farm, Lexington, has consigned to the Keeneland Summer Sales three Polynesian fillies; a son and daughter of Phalanx; colts by *Big Dipper II, Bolero, Colonist II, *Cortil, Kingsway and *Shannon II; and fillies by Black Tarquin, Double Jay, *Royal Charger and Spy Song.

Eight of the dams of the 15 Elmendorf yearlings are stakes winners, and four have already produced stakes victors. The *Cortil colt is a half brother to the Pimpernel, and the Phalanx filly is a half sister to Charleston. Dams of the imported yearling by Colonist II and *Royal Charger are also stakes producers. Stakes captors among the dams, in addition to Charleston's dam Charlotte Girl, are Aladear (dam of the *Shannon II colt), Ariel Song (Black Tarquin filly), *Cow Girl II (imported Kingsway colt), Danger Ahead (Double Jay filly), Discreet (*Big Dipper II colt), *Miss Alesia (Polynesian filly) and Tall Weeds (another Polynesian filly). And the third daughter of Polynesian is from the stakes-placed Blue Moon.

(Freudy Photos)

Winner of the Fox Valley Challenge Trophy for the "Best Young Horse" at Devon, Mrs. Joseph Walker, Jr.'s chestnut colt by Polynesian-Skimmer, by Milkman. The colt was shown by Alex Colderwelt and the trophy was received by G. Kenneth Stanton, farm manager for Mrs. Walker.

Reneged

Reneged, who recently equaled the world record of :49 1/4 for 4 1/2 furlongs on a straight course down Belmont Park's Widener Course, is a double product of the Keeneland Sales. He was sold at Keeneland as a weanling by John A. Bell, Jr.'s Jonabell Stables, Lexington, for $3,200 to the Nuckols Brothers' Hurstland Farm, Midway. The Nuckolses resold the colt as a yearling for $13,700 to the Woodley Lane Farm of Steven B. Wilson, Joseph R. Straus and Lafayette Ward.

The record-matcher is by Revoked—White Samite, good producing half sister, by Gallant Fox, to Sir Damion and Sobieha, and to that excellent brood mare Omayya.

Jonabell Yearlings

John A. Bell, Jr.'s Jonabell Stables, Lexington, is preparing for the Saratoga Sales a total of 16 yearlings, the property of half a dozen different owners.

In the Jonabell Stables group itself are a colt and filly by Stone Age; two daughters of Super Duper; sons of Better Self, Billings and Condiment; and fillies by County Delight and Phalanx.

The Stone Age colt, a half brother to Battlefield, is described by John A. Bell, III, who manages Jonabell for his father, as "better than Battlefield at the same age, and the best thing the mare's had."

Young Mr. Bell and his wife, under the name of Jonabell Farm, will sell a colt and filly by County Delight.

The filly is a half sister to Find.

Jonabell will also handle G. H. "Pete" Bostwick's consignment, consisting of a colt by County Delight and a filly by *Bernborough.

For Joe Madden, Jonabell will take a War Relic colt to the "Spa."

Another Jonabell charge will be Mrs. Silas B. Mason's Shut Out colt, half brother to Mrs. Fuddy and Scotch.

And finally, as Agent for Miss Greta Rogers, Jonabell will have a Phalanx filly.

Citation's First

Newmarket Maid, owned by Edgar Kitchen and Doug Davis, Jr., last week at River Downs became the first winner sired by the world's richest Thoroughbred, the $1,085,760 earner Citation, who stands at Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm, Lexington.

Citation was the best race horse seen in America since Man o' War.

Tiger Wander's Half Brother

Mrs. Helen Fortune, Lexington, has consigned a half brother, by Grand Admiral, to Tiger Wander to the Keeneland Summer Sales.

Riddle Estate Juveniles

Trainer C. R. Valentine has moved two juvenile fillies he has been training at the Samuel D. Riddle Estate's portion of Faraway Farm, Lexington, to Keeneland for their final racing preparations. The pair, eventually destined for broodmare duty at Faraway, are a full sister to Brush Burn and a daughter of Roman out of War Admiral's full sister Our Colors.

Mayer-Combs Yearlings

Louis B. Mayer, the California sportsman, and Leslie Combs II, owner of Spendthrift Farm, Lexington, Ky., will offer at Keeneland two *Bernborough fillies, colts by Roman and *Shannon II, and a daughter of *Alibhai.

The *Shannon II colt is a half brother

Lightning Ridden By John T. Sadler, Jr. Wins Mule Pt.-to-Pt.

Janetta Somerset

Madonna, Md., June 5—Lightning, ridden by John T. Sadler, Jr., today won the first annual mule point-to-point, held on the farm here of T. Courtenay Jenkins, Harford Creamery road.

Mr. Sadler and his mount, which occasionally lived up to its name, passed the beer keg at the finish line in a time of which no one seemed quite certain, but which was announced to be a record for the course.

The Lady Godiva Handicap, held over the same course (and with the same mounts), was won by Woody, ridden by Miss Sally Price, in what seemed to be even better, time, the mules having discovered during the first half of the afternoon what was expected of them.

Ten From Anne Arundel

Ten mules, acquired by Mr. Jenkins from Anne Arundel county, and exhibiting all the disagreeably disparate characteristics of their breed, were entered for the race, though Dynamite, carrying the colors of Alexander Cassatt, of Philadelphia, refused to take any part in the proceedings.

A crowd of about 300 subscribers, sympathizers and friends assembled on the hills overlooking the course, a distance of one mile and five-eighths which included "1-foot post-and-rail fences" and three water jumps over a shallow stream.

Mr. Jenkins Takes First Spill

The mounts were drawn by lots, and ranged from about fourteen hands up to gigantic animals of cart-horse size and attributes.

The mounting, undertaken in the paddock outside the farm, was fraught with a good deal of anxiety, as it was suspected that several of the animals had not been saddled before.

T. Courtenay Jenkins, Jr. took the first spill, right in the paddock, when his Harry Truman gave a Democratic buck and dislodged both the saddle and Mr. Jenkins.

Mr. Jenkins found another saddle and bravely re-entered the fray, and the entries set off for the starting post at the bottom of the hill.

Skewbald Quits Paddock

Riders were mostly wearing conventional silks, many borrowed for the occasion, but William Prickett, Jr., on Francis wore a straw hat, and Peter Winants, riding Chummy, carried a leafy twig in lieu of a crop.

A skewbald mule leaped the paddock fence, but was caught and mounted. As it was led by two grooms down the hill, one of the small spectators remarked, "Hey, Daddy, guess what—I'm never going to be a mule rider when I grow up."

His caution was understandable in view of the temper exhibited by several entries, but eventually the starter, Mr. L. Grimes, M.N.M.H., discharged his function with a loud yell and the racers, being shooed with a towel, were off.

The water jumps, or scrambles, proved less of an obstacle than had been feared, and apart from the efforts of the skewbald to stray from the prescribed course, the race went very smoothly after the first 200 yards had been negotiated.

The return to the finish line, which was under a handsome shade tree, was undertaken in great style, Lightning (by Slowpoke - Gumshoe) was admired and Mr. Sadler was awarded the trophy, a large, gilded pitcher of Victorian aspect (veiled in a shirt) from the manure-spreader at the finish line.

J. Harlan Williams, Jr., made the presentation and congratulated the runners-up, Dawson Stump, Peyton S. Cochran, Jr., and Peter Lawson-Johnson.

Girl Riders Show More Style

After a suitable interval for music and the consumption of beer, racing was resumed with the first running of the Lady Godiva Handicap.

In a close finish, Miss Price defeated Miss Annie K. Bailey and Miss Mary Mills, the ladies exhibiting throughout a great deal more style than their predecessors, possibly because most of the mules had decided that racing was the line of least resistance.

Miss Jacklyn Ewing, boldly mounting Dynamite, which already had defeated several attempts by larger jockeys, calmed the animal's ruffled feelings and brought it in fourth.

Miss Daphne Bedford, who ran last, received much well-deserved applause when she brought Chummy up to the finish line some time after the race was over by dint of shouting and beating her mount like a carpet.

Maloney's Ace Marine Wins Canada's Classic The Queen's Plate

Canada's Queen's Plate, 3-year-old classic and richest purse north of the border, was won by Ace Marine at Woodbine Park, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, on June 11th.

The chestnut son of Ace Admiral—Mazarine, by Sweepster was never headed. He went to the top of the 17 horse field, staved off a bold bid from Mrs. R. Graul, Jr.'s game filly Baffin Bay and drew away to win by three lengths to clock up 1:52½ for the 1½ miles distance.

Owner Larkin Maloney was presented with the Queen's Plate Trophy, the time honored cup, by the Lieutenant—Governor of Ontario Louis O. Briethaupt. The winner's share of the purse was $25,270 and 50 guineas the gift of her Majesty the Queen. The plate winner is the only horse Mr. Maloney has owned outright. He purchased the colt at the Canadian yearling Sales for $8,500 from breeder Carr Hatch, son of the late H. C. Hatch.

Ace Marine's victory was not only a first for his owner but the first Queen's Plate winner bred by Carr Hatch (his father bred 5 winners of Canada's premier race); a first Plate winner for trainer Johnny Starr, and a first plate winner for Jockey George Walker.

Dallas Aided By 2-Goal Handicap Defeats El Ranchito 6 to 4

Jack Cartusciello

Using a two goal handicap to good advantage a determined Dallas Polo Club held on to a two goal lead to win the Southwestern Intra circuit and the right to represent the southwest at the National Inter circuit. Neither team was able to score in the first chukker due to the fine defensive play of Bill Skidmore and A. B. Wharton for El Ranchito and Mickey Samuel and Lou Ramos for Dallas. In the second chukker Bill Skidmore, spark plug of the El Ranchito team, scored, but youth came to light as Roy Barry Jr., one of the brightest teenage prospects in polo, scored on a sustained drive that covered some two hundred yards. Lou Ramos followed with another score for Dallas. The defensive play of both teams was predominant in the third chukker as neither team was able to break thru to score.

Score at halftime Dallas 4—El Ranchito 1.

In the fourth chukker it was goal for goal with Micky Samuel scoring on an off side neck shot that traveled some one hundred yards. Bill Skidmore kept pace by scoring one for El Ranchito.

In the fifth chukker El Ranchito closed the gap as Toby Hilliard scored for El Ranchito while Bill Skidmore, Jesse Smith and A. B. Wharton held Dallas scoreless.

The sixth chukker saw Dallas increase their lead on a score by Dr. Raworth Williams, sponsor of the Dallas team. Dr. Williams has done much to further the progress of polo by encouraging the youth of Texas and using them on his team. Just before the final bell Jesse Smith, just recovering from a two weeks illness, scored on an off side forehand shot from one hundred twenty five yards.

Lineups

| El Ranchito      | Dallas        |
|------------------|---------------|
| 1. A. B. Wharton | R. Williams   |
| 2. J. Smith      | R. Barry, Jr. |
| 3. W. Skidmore   | M. Samuel     |
| 4. T. Hilliard   | L. Ramos      |

Scoring—El Ranchito: Smith 1, Skidmore 2, Hilliard 1. Dallas: Williams 1, R. Barry Jr., 1, Samuel 1, Ramos 1, by handicap 2. El Ranchito 0 1 0 1 1 1—4 Dallas 0 2 0 1 0 1—6

Umpires: H. Barry, B. Wayman. Referee: Tom Hasty, Jr. Timer-Scorer: Joe Barry.

Festival of Ireland Features All Ireland Polo Club Tournament

Evelyn Prescott

The All Ireland Polo Club held a very successful tournament during An Tostal (Festival of Ireland) period. Major Boyd Gibbon brought over his Silver Leys team among which young Traill with his very fast ponies was the most outstanding. He is the son of that great player of the old days John Traill.

The first game was good fun to watch as the County Meath Team which lacked the teamwork of the London team, did far better than expected. Then, in the last chukka, the shortage of made ponies became apparent and the Silver Leys Team scored 3 goals to win the Stanley Cockrane Cup, 4-2.

The second game was played for the Fortnightly Cup, to the accompaniment of thunder and a hail shower, against a Dublin County Team. The slippery going rather upset the Irish and John Martin was the only one to score, with a good shot from 70 yards out. Traill at no. 3 was in top form again and kept up a steady stream of long passes to his forwards who usually made the most of them and piled up 6 goals.

Finally the sun appeared for the last game which seemed to have a very salutary effect on the Irish. The large crowd was kept in continual excitement as one team after the other kept scoring. Brig. Gen. Fowler playing for the All Ireland Polo Club made a goal with a sensational backhand shot, bringing the crowd to a frenzy and giving the Irish a 3-2 victory.

(Only four chukkas were played in these games.)

THE SILVER LEYS—No. 1. Maj. Gen. Abraham; No. 2. H. G. Boyd Gibbon; No. 3. J. Traill; No. 4. W. Walsh.

COUNTY MEATH—No. 1. Brig. B. J. Fowler; No. 2. H. J. Tyrrell; No. 3. J. A. Leonard; No. 4. P. J. Irwin.

CO. DUBLIN—No. 1. E. H. Leonard; No. 2. J. A. Leonard; No. 3. W. Tyrrell; No. 4. L. T. Martin.

ALL IRELAND POLO CLUB—No. 1. Brig. Gen. Fowler; No. 2. W. Tyrrell; No. 3. J. A. Leonard; No. 4. J. Martin.

The following week, Gerald Balding, who has played for Great Britain in so many international tournaments against the United States, brought the Weyhill Polo Club team (Hampshire) to Dublin. Hugh Leonard, one of the younger Irish players, played no. 1 for the visitors due to Lord Waterford's non-arrival, but he did very nicely with the experienced trio of L. R. Morgan, Capt. G. Balding and Maj. J. A. Grogan. Morgan was an exceptionally long hitter and Capt. Balding was in top form so the A.I.P.C. went down to a 5-2 defeat.

Lord Waterford arrived in time for the final game of the An Tostal program so H. Leonard played for the All Ireland Polo Club along with H. Tyrrell, Brig. Gen. Fowler and W. Tyrrell. This was one of the finest games seen in Ireland and ended on a very high note with the Irish winning by a single goal.

Anderson Stars For Rocky Hill Polo Club

Rocky Hill poloists scored a 12-4 victory over the Lancaster Polo Club of Harrisburg in a thrilling hard fought game Saturday night, May 28th, that opened the season for the Rocky Hill Polo Club, newest big league polo club in the U. S. The Rocky Hill PC game was paced by Andy Anderson's 5 goals; Herb Swann played a brilliant defense at back for the winners.

In the second game, Sam Wetherill was the star for Valley Forge Military Academy. Al Busch, riding for Goshen PC, paced the team with 3 goals. Buddy Brooks was injured twice. Despite his injuries he remounted, finished the game and scored 3 times. The visitors, Valley Forge, lost to their host 12-5.

Barnsley Field, Olney Md., Center For D. C. Area Polo Enthusiasts

Joan Gibbon

The Washington area polo season is now in full swing at Barnsley Field in Olney, Md. The Washington Squires have started out with a bang, winning their first three games, and suffering no losses. They have triumphed over The Maryland Polo Club twice, 7-3, and 5-4, and over The Virginians 9-4.

The Squires line up remains the same as last year. The Captain of the team, Donald Bradley is backed up by Dr. John Keeler, Bob Gibbon, Bill Beall, and Walter Cunningham. The team members have not been idle since the closing of the 1954 season but have been busy acquiring, conditioning and schooling new ponies, improving the turf at picturesque Barnsley field, and helping to organize new local teams to be seen in competition this season.

Playing with the new Warrenton Polo Club will be Wesley Dennis, Buzz Roger, and Bill and Jim Gulick. Another new team which will see action this year is

The Diplomats. The team is comprised of members of the Washington Diplomatic circle. The Captain is Jai K. Atal from Jaipur, India, the other team members are Colonel John Nelson of the British Joint Services, G. Mueenuddin from Pakistan, and an ex-Cavalry officer in the Hungarian Army, Frank Kovacs.

The Virginians, and The Maryland Club played at Barnsley field last year, and will be seen here again this year. The Virginians are the powerful army team from the Pentagon. The players include Jack Shirley, Porter King, George Kitteredge, and George Thomas. The Maryland Club is composed of Riggs Jones, Frank Willson, Brooke Gallion, Doug Ward and Fred Kohler.

Games will be held twice a week this year, on Sunday afternoon and Wednesday evenings.

Washington Squires Defeat Warrenton And Maryland Polo Clubs

Joan Gibbon

The Washington Squires' 1955 season record is beginning to resemble the early season efforts of The Brooklyn Dodgers Baseball team. The strong Washington Club now has a record of five wins and no losses in five attempts. Their fifth win came on June fifth at Barnsley Field in Olney, Maryland, when they triumphed over The Warrenton Polo Club, 4-3.

The first two chukkers of the game were scoreless, as possession of the ball went rapidly from one team to the other. Neither team seemed able to penetrate the powerful defense of the other.

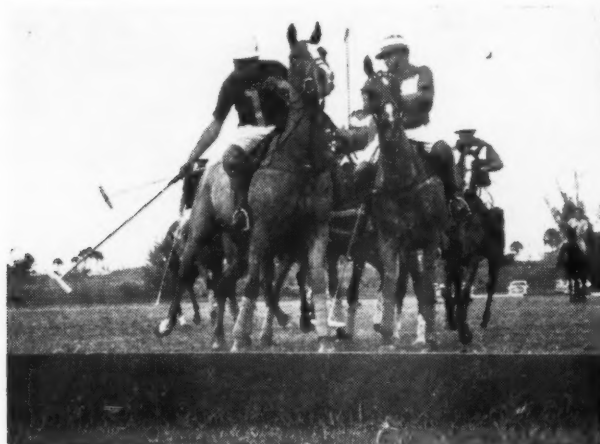

Bill Beall of the Squire's broke the

Before the biggest crowd of the season, the Washington Squires continued their winning ways to down The Maryland Polo Club 6-5 for their sixth straight victory. Though hampered by injuries The Squires came through in championship form. Both Don Bradley, the team's high scoring Captain, and Dr. John Keeler, were able to play only two chukkers due to hand and arm injuries respectively.

Bill "Blister" Beall was the star of the day for Washington, scoring each of his two goals at appropriate times. His first tally opened the scoring in the game in the second chukker, and his second score was the big one in one of the most exciting finishes ever seen at Barnsley Field. Fred Kohler had just tallied for Maryland to tie the score at 5-5. There

Salem Polo Club Beats Harbor Hills 8-7

Coming from behind in the final chukker, the Salem Polo Club won the opening contest of its summer season Sunday afternoon, May 29, defeating the Harbor Hills squad from Hebron, near Columbus, 8-7 before a large crowd at the Salem Polo Field on the Ellsworth Road.

Salem got off to a good start in the first period, taking a 3-1 lead. Willie Smith, Jim Pidgeon and Tony Sheen each scored for Salem in the first chukker, with Bill Cockenbaugh getting the visitors' lone goal.

Harbor Hills came back in the second chukker to tie the score 4-4 as Al Holman sent the ball through the goal posts twice and Oty Harris scored once. Pidgeon made the lone Salem goal of the period.

Hills went ahead in the third frame, with Harris the only player scoring. Good defensive play by both teams in the chukker held the scoring down. Both teams managed one goal each in the fourth and fifth periods, Hills staying out in front by one goal.

Salem's Willie Smith tied the score 7-7 on a beautiful hook shot following a long drive up field in the final chukker, and tallied the winning goal with about 1 minute left in the game.

deadlock in the third period, with a well placed tally, but he was the only player able to break into the scoring column in that chukker. The game opened up a little in the second half as Dr. John Keeler scored two insurance goals for the Squires. Warrenton's Bill Gulick spoiled Washington's shut out attempt with a beautiful shot from sixty yards out in the fourth chukker. The fifth chukker saw another tightening of defenses, as Bob Gibbon of the Squires was the only man to score in that period.

Excitement mounted in the final chukker, as the Warrenton players began to stage a comeback. After Bill Gulick scored again early in the chukker, and Wesley Dennis split the uprights, it began to look as if Warrenton might tie the score and thus necessitate a sudden death period. Thanks to the fine defensive plays of The Washington team, however, Warrenton fell short of the mark, and the game ended in a 4-3 victory for The Squires.

Scoring—Washington: Keeler 2, Beall 1, were fifteen seconds remaining in the game, and Beall sent the ball sailing between the uprights for The Squires' sixth goal. To insure the victory Beall turned back Maryland's final bid by backhanding a well hit ball out of danger just as the final gong sounded.

It was a fast moving, spectator pleasing game from start to finish. Walter Cunningham's goal in the third chukker pushed Washington into the lead, and Bob Gibbon's long ball tally then gave the Squires a two goal edge. Before the period was over, however, Fred Kohler scored for Maryland to cut the lead to 3-2. A goal by Maryland's Frank Kovacs in the fourth closed the gap, but Bradley and Gibbon scored in the fifth to put Washington out in front 5-3. The thrilling sixth chukker left the crowd breathless, and The Washington Squires remain unbeaten in 1955.

Junior Canter

The Junior Canter Club of the Hobby Horse Stables becomes larger each year and the competition keener as interest in riding steadily increases in the Austin area. This year's show began in the early evening and continued after darkness under lights to escape the Texas heat this time of year, and the result was greater spectator interest. It is also encouraging that more boys are seen competing each year.

The majority of the riders in this show are the pupils of Miss Ginger Virtue of the Hobby Horse Stables who has done a great deal to develop real interest in horsemanship among juniors and adults alike in this area. The advanced riders were the students of Jimmy Burr who coaches them for participation in the shows of the Texas Hunter Jumper Association.

Paul Lee McGill won the horsemanship championship of the show and this gain-

Jr. Equitation

The rain more than laid the dust in the ring at Hayfield Farm but it couldn't dampen the enthusiasm of an estimated 65 riders who participated in the second annual Fun and Foolishness Show.

The purpose of the show which was put on by the Safari Club (5 teen age girls) was to raise money for the new stable being built at Full Cry Farm, Vienna, Va. at which Junior Equitation School will be permanently located after June 1. The 14-year-old girls responsible for the show (including the judging) were Gretchen Schlitz, Rebecca Ashley, Kathy Kusner, Tina McElroy, and Sara Willis.

There were 13 well-filled classes, topped off by the "Hardly working hunter" championship event. This was won by West Wind, a school pony usually found in beginners classes. Given a bold ride by Kathy Kusner the little bay mare put in a round that could hardly be faulted. Second, and reserve champion was Cinnamon Stick with owner Becky Ashley up.

Two classes of special interest were the "Have you lost your marbles" and the Free for All. The first was won by Jill Ridgeley who (while riding) balanced a marble on a spoon longer than any one else. The second, a bareback class, had two divisions. One judged in horsemanship was won by Sandy Robbins on Little Jimmy. The other division was for the most humorous and was won by Kathy Kusner on her retired show pony Little Sir over Sarah Scheleen, who sitting backwards, rode Rodney's Bay at a walk, trot, canter and bucking spree.

Judy Coceran topped the intermediate equitation ranks by winning both the horsemanship and jumping classes on Sara Willis' bob-tailed hunter Schmee.

Matt Horsley, Foxhunting Farmer, Famed in Rhyme & Verse

E. E. Hutton

Matt Horsley was a foxhunting farmer who lived at Birdsall, in the East Riding of Yorkshire; as well as farming he dealt, in and probably bred, hunters which he broke and made himself. On his small farm he contrived, from time to time, to bring into the field, show off there, and sell afterwards at good prices, as many good horses as ever perhaps belonged to one person—for in the course of three quarters of a century he had hunted with three generations. He died in November 1805 at the age of 90.

He had a natural vein of humour and facetiousness, which the quaintness of a strong Yorkshire dialect heightened. The sub-joined rhyme is in MS on the fly-leaf of a volume entitled "An Essay on Shooting", published in 1791, and is a presentation copy from the author to Matt Horsley himself. The rhymes appear to have been written by an admirer into whose hands the volume had fallen: MATT HORSLEY the old FOX-HUNTER Matt Horsley is gone, a true sportsman from birth;

After all his long chaces has taken to earth.

Full of days, whims, and good humor he died;

The farmers delight, and the foxhunters pride.

An' tho' the small comforts of life's private hour

Were often encroached on by rank and by power;

And tho' his plain means could but poorly afford

To cope with the squire or contend with a lord—

Yet Matt the sharp Arrows of malice still broke

In his quaint Yorkshire way by a good humored joke.

Till four score and ten he continued life's course;

And for seventy long years he made part of his horse—

From the days of old Draper (1), who rose in the dark.

Matt hunted through life to the days of Sir Mark (2)

With Hunmanby's Squire (3) he was first in the throng,

And with hard Harry Foord (4) never thought a day long;

If the fox would but run, every bog it was dry,

No leap was too large—no wold hill too high;

Himself still in wind, tho his steed might want breath,

He was then as he's now, ever "in at the death."

A tough hearty sapling from liberty's tree,

If ever plain Yorkshireman lived—it was he.

But now honest Matt has bid sporting adieu,

Many good things he uttered—one good thing is true,

That, awed by no frowns, above meanness or pelf—

No bad things could ever be said of himself.

As honest Matt Horsley is gone to repose,

And he and the foxes non longer are foes;

Lay one brush on his grave—it will do his heart good

For, so sporting his nature, so true was his blood,

That but stand o'er his sod—Tally ho' be your strain,

Matt Horsley will wake, and will halloo again.

(1) Huntsman to Sir M. M. Sykes.

(2) Sir Mark Masterman Sykes of Sledmere, father of Sir Tatton Sykes.

(3) Humphry Osbaldeston, who in his day and in the days of Isaac his huntsman, had one of the best packs in England.

(4) Harry Foord, a former vicar of Foxholes, on the wolds, esteemed one of the best gentleman riders in England, and who, acting on the principle of never avoiding what was necessary or doing that which was unnecessary, rode two as good horses as ever went into a field through ten seasons, although riding fourteen stone.

Dedham County

Two Dover neighbors battled it out for the championship at the 51st annual Memorial Day Horse Show at Dedham, Mass., with Hickory, eight-year-old chestnut gelding owned by Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel T. Clark, taking the Mill Farm trophy for champion hunter from Thunderlark, twelve-year-old grey gelding of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Smith, Jr. and last year's champion. Thunderlark, ridden by Mrs. Smith, took two blues and a red. But Hickory, ridden by June Wildes of Canton and Jean Neiley of Medfield, took the maiden hunter, New England hunter and hunter hack classes, to win the championship, and also, ridden by his owner, Nathaniel T. Clark, M.F.H. of Norfolk, helped the Norfolk Hunt Team to take second prize in the team class.

Thunderlark won the Nora Saltonstall Memorial Cup for Ladies' Qualified Hunters for the third time, giving Mrs. Smith the right to retire the trophy, she announced, however, that she intends to put it back into competition.

Lila Cornell, fourteen-year old from Wellesley, won the Junior Championship cup, donated by Mrs. Sherwin C. Badger, ex-M.F.H. of Norfolk, riding Ondine, owned by Julia Taylor.

The Junior Drag Challenge Cup, which sent the more advanced junior riders over an outside course, was won by Dedham Country and Polo Club Stable's Sligo, ridden by Grace MacLellan of West Roxbury. This class brought out 22 entries. This trophy was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Almy a former M.F.H. of the Dedham Hunt.

A beautiful exhibition of dressage by Captain T. Fred Marsman on his horse Mountain Gold was an added attraction. Another new feature was a class for Pony Club members, competing in teams of three on the flat, and then being scored individually over a modified F.E.I. course.

Dewitt

For the second straight year Mrs. Hugh Barclay's Douglaston Manor Farm captured the Paul Fout "Kelpie" challenge trophy with their Balko's Edge. San Joy Farms, who also have two legs on the trophy, were reserve with Big Deal.

The hunter performances on a whole were much improved over previous shows. Ribbons were fairly evenly distributed with Mrs. Barclay's Sailor's Wench, Ted Roulston's Play Tour, and Dry Hill Farm's South Pacific sharing honors.

Eglinton President Cup

The Eglinton Hunt President's Cup Series was concluded on May 29th with championships recognized on points earned through the 4 competitions. The junior championship was the difficult one to decide with three jumping off to gain the winner's points for the day in a pretty grueling contest. Norm Elder won and took the championship with Red Top over David Conacher's Blythe Spirit, but Red Top had to jump-off again with Taddy Mathews on Black Maria to decide the Hastings-Trew Trophy and this time Taddy won.

George Boehm won the Senior Cup on Brandy B and also got the Kerr Trophy which like the Hastings-Trew for Juniors went to the horse with the most consistent performances over the original course on all four days.

Eugene

Hunter and jumper folks of Oregon were very pleased to see seven classes for them in the Eugene classification this year instead of the usual four, and showed their appreciation by turning out in full force. The cream of the crop from Oregon and Washington were entered in the jumper division and all contending hunters were on hand with the exception of Dan Mar Hill Stables whose owner Dan Creary has recently taken up "temporary" abode with the U. S. Armed Forces.

G. E. Smith's green one, Better Luck, had a clean round in the open jumpers to take the blue and with only 2 faults to take third place in the stake. Climax of the whole show was the F.E.I. course, open to both hunters and jumpers, in which 12-year-old Weylin Meyer, who had been having just a bit of trouble here and there with her little Captain Dynamite, tied for first with Copper King and Mrs. Robert Ferry's Ridge Runner. In the jumpoff over a beautiful but imposing course Captain Dynamite was the only one with a clean round and needless to say the crowd, Weylin, and Cappy were all very pleased.

Fairfield-Westchester

Many entries turned up this year for the Stamford P.H.A. held on the Frank Altschul estate. The P.H.A. Fairfield and Westchester Chapter members ran it with great efficiency. The weather was a little threatening at first but it cleared up to make the day perfect.

In the conformation division, Blanch Clark rode Mrs. Charles Govern's Strideaway to the championship.

In the working division, Ashland, a beautiful chestnut gelding owned by C. T. Chenery, took the championship.

The jumper classes had a great many entries. George Morris took Royal Guard over the jumps for the Saxon Woods Club, winning the knock-down-and-out, the stakes and the championship. Al Fiori rode Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Mann's Riviera Ko Ko for reserve.

In the junior divisions, Shady Pete, owned by Mrs. Arthur Samuels took the junior hunter type championship for the fifth time this year with Lee Samuels up. The horsemanship champion hunter seat was Michael Page, winning the MacLay class and the P.H.A. class.

Germantown

The annual Germantown Charity Horse Show is still growing, with well filled and keenly contested hunter and jumper classes.

The colorful and consistent Copan, owned by Mrs. Joan Morgenthau of Birmingham, Alabama, took two firsts, winning the amateur hunter and working hunter stake. A popular favorite, Pegasus, owned and shown by H. R. Belew of Jackson, Tenn. won the knock-down-and-out after a thrilling three time jump-off with Analize who also won the open working hunter class with Charles Zimmerman up.

Saturday afternoon was a big day for the children, bringing many of our future hunters out to compete. The hunter equitation over jumps was won by Boyce Magli of Nashville, Tenn. riding his Wee Biscuit, while the snow white Eskimo Pie, owned by Robert L. Hardy, Jr. of Little Rock and shown by Terry Drury captured the working hunter pony class. There were at least two proud father and daughter combinations. Claude McCormick and his Grumble Jones took a blue in the handy hunter and daughter Denetia another in the children's horsemanship hunter seat under 12, while Oliver Anderson and his Sir Scott took first in the green hunter and daughter Lucille a second in the equitation hunter seat 13-18.

Germantown continued its policy of varied and interesting courses, this year featuring a real water jump in the center of the ring which remained the "center-piece" during the show, embellished by hedge and roses.

Iron Bridge

Signal Flag, a flashy chestnut, scored a unique "double" at the Iron Bridge Hunt Horse Show at Burtonsville, Maryland on Memorial Day. This extremely well-mannered gelding was ridden to the green hunter championship by owner Bernice Longworth and also captured the reserve tri-color in a heavily populated junior division.

Gray horses dominated the hunter division, winning both ends of the championship. That Night, owned by Angelina Carabelli and ridden by Harry DeMawby, Jr., captured the championship.

Owner riders had a ding dong battle before the open jumper title was decided with Fred J. Hughes, Jr., on his Hi-Li just nosing out Chuck Ackerman on his Little Irishman. Hi-Li also won the jumper championship in 1954.

Metamora

The two principal reasons for a Hunt to sponsor a horse show are, first, for the income, sorely needed to keep the hunt budget secure, and second, to bring on the young people. The wonderful turnout of junior riders at the Metamora Spring Schooling Show caused one of our seniors, and an ex-MFH by the way, to remark that if only 10% of these teenagers stuck to it, we should have no fear of good hunt fields in the future. Entries this year more than doubled those of 1954.

New York Military

The hunters, as usual, dominated the two-day show on the grounds of the New York Military Academy. Raymond Burr came all the way from Pennsylvania and had a worth-while trip. He rode the Kimberton Hills Farm's Kimberling to the working hunter crown by a large majority of points. Mrs. Robert Schmid accounted for the stake money with her great-going Naute Mia.

The green working hunters had a champion who has more or less had things all going her way in her last four or five shows—Mrs. Frank Craig on her wonderful jumping brown mare, War Bride. Ralph Petersen's lovely gray mare, Double Trouble, ridden by Althea Knickerbocker won the first day of the two-day event and Blenheim's Fancy the second day event.

Leon Haymond's Jack O'Lantern was the winner in the F.E.I. event, with Dave Kelley up. The irrepressible Joe Green won the open class with Irl Daffin's great jumping little Anchors Aweigh.

In the junior division Lee Samuels on his mother's nice brown horse, Shady Pete had a five point majority for the championship over Bless Me, owned and ridden by Wendy Hanson.

In the equitation section, Miss Barbara Friedemann won two classes on the flat and the open, Ann Voorhees won the horsemanship over the outside course, and the MacLay was taken by Gail Porter. Ann Voorhees had another blue in the Medal.

North Park

Started two years ago on the Schomaker Farm to encourage the small exhibitor this all amateur show has grown to the extent that the park officials built a new ring this year, with the promise of stabling and extra outside courses in the future. Despite their growth, they have maintained their $1.50 entry fee, they award six ribbons in every class plus a trophy for first place, charge no admission, just pass the hat and still come out with black ink on their books. They have done a wonderful job and a special hand to Mickey Koval who had the worries of managing it this year.

Classes were run-off very smoothly despite two torrential down pours, the Potato Race had the crowd cheering for their favorites as well as the Rescue Race.

Old Chatham

The second annual horse show of the re-organized Old Chatham Hunt was held at the W. Gordon Cox's Antinore Farm in Old Chatham. The weather man forecast rain but was fooled and the fine day filled the 18 classes and brought forth a large gallery. Old Chatham has one of the largest Pony Clubs in the country although only organized a year ago and most of the morning session was devoted to the young entry with four classes restricted to Pony Club members. With our 66 members only Five Pony Club Branches in the Country are larger than ours according to the 1955 Pony Club Year Book and the fact is a source of gratification to all concerned. Mrs. John Gottschalk, the well-known coach of the Emma Willard School, met with misfortune while schooling before the show and had to leave for repairs but luckily the damage was not serious. Game Bid owned by Robert Reynolds of Millbrook, N. Y. was Champion with 13 points, and Daniel Boone owned by Miss Lyn Holden of Old Chatham was Reserve with 10 points.

Oklahoma

Jimmie Burr's Hobby Horse Stable contingent from Austin, Texas had a very successful show in Oklahoma. Frank Coates, Jr., who was back in the saddle after about a three year lay-off did himself proud with the reserve championship in both the hunter and jumper divisions. He rode his sisters Plum Puddin' in for reserve hunter and Sue Cocke's Reward for the jumper second spot.

Both Jimmie and his Mrs. rode the winning mounts of the show. Mrs. Burr rode Uptown for the hunter championship and Mrs. Burr rode Mrs. Frank Coates Tinkertoy to the jumper tri-color. It rained the whole show but the arena was covered so it didn't dampen anything but the atmosphere. This show could be a very nice addition to the hunter and

Pegasus

The third annual Pegasus Inter School equitation show was held at the Meadow Brook Show Grounds. Miss Fen Kollock, manager and head instructor at the Pegasus Stable, ran the show very smoothly, assisted by Mrs. Dave Crompton, Mrs. George Titus and Miss Martha Harris, the other instructors at the stable.

Eleven riders from the Holton Arms School teamed together to pile up 29 points for the championship.

Last year's champions, National Cathedral, had to be satisfied with the reserve, scoring 26 points.

PORTSMOUTH

Early shows in the season always seem more interesting because everyone is curious to see the new ones and find out the results of a winter's training on the others. Portsmouth is one of the first in Ohio, and showed good results in all directions.

The horses as a rule jump the open jumper courses in just the same style as they do the hunter courses, and it certainly makes them powerful switch-hitters to take to any show. It is a pleasure to see the horses able to think for themselves and not be rated or fought. Probably this is the result of so many amateur owners riding and training their own horses in this area.

Richmond Hill

The little town of Richmond Hill, Ontario, Canada, once one of the most flourishing of the earliest settlements in "Upper" Canada was once called Pleasant View but changed its name after the Duke of Richmond visited there. It now is also a part of the vastly spreading city of Toronto, but still holds its annual spring fair and horse show, which is the oldest horse show in the province, perhaps in all Canada.

The horse of the day was L. W. Ruby's grand old placing gelding Flash Gordon. Gerry Bayman has really got the honest old horse clicking like clock work. He out performed Mrs. Charles Loveless King Hi with Tom Gayford up in the open class. . . came right back to win the jumping sweepstakes over Bob Ballard's Oregon Duke and placed second to King Hi in his third and last class, the knock-down & out stake.

Looks like the best green horse in the conformation division in Ontario is Dr. J. B. Chassels' grey mare Valley Sign, very attractive four-year-old performed beautifully to win the green lightweight and the green stake.

Rombout

The 24th annual Rombout Horse Show which was held at Greenvale Farms, Poughkeepsie was very well attended and the entries were good.

John M. Melville's bay gelding, The Count, was champion, and retired the Homer B. Gray Championship Trophy, as well as the Alfred Berol Working Hunter Trophy.

Miss Judy White, Miss Beverly Burke, and Mr. Robert P. H. Kay were the top horsemanship riders of the day, winning Medal classes, and various jumping and flat horsemanship events.

There were many highlights making the day a friendly and amusing one. The class of the day was the costume class, when Hedda Von Goeben appeared as the lady from Niger on a somewhat equine tiger, and Louise Metcalf appeared as a terrifying real monkey, while Jack Curtis arrived happily as a sheik with 15 bathing suited Vassar girls as his harem. That was the last class of the day, and came on at 7:15, and anyone who will put on a costume after showing all day, at that hour, is a good sport.

St. Jude's

The third annual St. Jude's Horse Show sponsored by Building Fund held at St. Jude's Parish Grounds.

The classes were varied and interesting; the exhibitors were representing many areas, there were horses from New England, New Jersey, New York, etc. There were classes for Morgans, Arabians, Hackneys, Tennessee Walkers, as well as Equitation, hunters, jumpers, and pleasure horses.

It was a pleasure to see the LaSalle Institute showing horses again. Their Drill Team gave several exhibitions each day, and the individual riders exhibited in equitation and hunt classes. The high point of Sunday's Show was the awarding of the Governor's Perpetual Challenge Trophy in honor of the governors of New York State. It was presented by Congressman Leo W. O'Brien to Main Attraction and Gay Blade owned respectively by Marion Duffy and Bob Heller of Scarsdale, N. Y.

Syracuse

This year's P. H. A. show sponsored by the Syracuse Lions Club far surpassed last year's show in the number and quality of entries.

Mrs. Hugh Barclay's Douglaston Manor Stable captured three of the four championships. All the horses were very ably ridden by Adolph Magavero. Also the Pearl Goode Memorial challenge trophy for conformation hunters was retired by Douglaston Manor, Jane Tana won it in '52 and Sailor's Wench the last two years.

The working hunter division was more evenly divided. Ted Roulston aboard Mrs. Kenneth Digney's big chestnut Champtown topped a well filled hack class and was the eventual champion. Anne Durland took the amateur with her D'Artagnan; Don Graziano and his Tyalain won the open, and Mrs. Barclay's Timber's Last came through in the stake.

The brother and sister combination of David and Judy Pfeifer accounted for both equitation classes. Judy took the medal with David second, and then David copped his very first Maclay with Judy second. David finished the show by adding the championship to his previous triumph.

large and the competition was strong. The A.S.P.C.A. Medal was taken by Patsy Ann Smith over a field of 28. Mike Del Balso jumped away with the under 13 over fences, and Susie Lounsbury the under 15. Even the lead line class was large, little Nancy Lindsay walked away with the top honors here.

The hunters seemed as though they galloped and jumped all day with that nice chestnut Mr. O'Malley of Mrs. O. Appleton's, ridden by Gordon Wright, coming out on top of W. Bondy's Fashion Plate. Mrs. E. Albert Berol's Androcles copped the lightweight class. The Ronald Isgate Memorial for working hunters was taken by Marjorie Wisenberger's Erin's Star.

Mrs. Frank Craig added still another tricolor to her ever-growing collection for green working hunters. The stake money went home with Mrs. Parish's Step Back, and Joan Draper's Silver Science took the Challenge trophy for green working hunters.

The green jumper ranks showed some newcomers. Johnny Bell and his partner Billy Quinn had two new ones that consistently chipped ribbons in Milkie Kid and Mokie Joe. Little Nancy Clapp had the champion in Hutchinson Farm's So Big. Don Funk showed his nice palomino Golden Gem to the reserve field.

tiny villages. They also keep their livestock in the same housing area, so the villages are quite odoriferous. Fields are intensely cultivated and not a particle of tillable land is allowed to be wasted.

This coming week I shall be returning to my home 'kaserne' or post near Frankfurt. I have heard that there are quite a few show horses in that vicinity, I hope I can locate them.

Yours truly,

Shetland Ponies

Dear Sir:

The editor of "Pony" has told me that you would like the enclosed photo.

These Shetland ponies were some of a consignment of 44 sent to Kansas City. They were shipped by British Livestock Exports, Ltd. of London and I had the very pleasant task of assisting with their collection, as this firm usually asks me to purchase ponies for them when they have an order for overseas. We are very pleased that our Shetland and Welsh breeds are now so popular in America. It is a great stimulus to breeders here to realize this, and as only the best specimens are required for export this helps to keep the standard high.

Now that riding ponies seem to be getting more popular in the States, I was wondering if there might be an opening for our new Forest breed. In height they vary from about 12.2 to 14 hands and are made like small quality hunters. They are usually beautiful jumpers, have perfect temperaments, are fast and extremely hardy. New Forest ponies are probably our most ancient breed, reference having been made to them in the Forest Charter in the reign of King Canute in 1017 when the New Forest first became a Royal demesne. I do not think that any other breed can claim such an early date.

For some reason they have so far missed the export trade to the U. S. A., and can therefore be bought more cheaply. Good 2 or 3 year old fillies (probably in foal) can usually be bought at the annual autumn sales for 25 to 35 pounds and I would gladly look some out if anyone in America was interested. For, as I have pointed out, export is a great thing for any breed. These ponies of course have their own Breed Society and Stud Book. Classes are held for them at several shows both locally and in London. Having judged, exhibited and bred native ponies for many years, I have a very real interest in these game and useful little animals.

Yours truly,

Mrs. S. C. Deed

Fences

Dear Sir:

I have read your editorial entitled "Which Way Timber Racing", as published in the May 20, 1955 issue of THE CHRONICLE. Your conclusions are based on the premise that the canted fences of the Gold Cup, standing 3 feet 10 inches, together with weight allowances, cause horses to set a dangerous pace. We firmly believe in the type of timber race we are running at Warrenton, and I think the Gold Cup may be fairly judged in terms of its relative safety record and the ever-increasing number of owners and trainers who have entered their horses in it and tried to win the Gold Cup over recent years.

In 1951, the Gold Cup Committee rebuilt its timber course along the lines of its predecessor for many years and rebuilt all its fences to the present 3 foot 10 inch height. During the succeeding five years, 61 horses started in the Gold Cup, of which 11 fell. In 1954 18 horses started with only one fall.

Reservations For Olympics

Dear Sir:

While in Sweden the other day I intended to make my hotel reservation for the duration of the Olympic Equestrian events next June, when I found to my horror that it is not possible to do so in the normal course of events.

I immediately called on the person in charge of these arrangements and was told that all available rooms will be turned over to Cooks and American Express shortly after July 1st of this year. All room reservations must, therefore be made through them and no reservation will be arranged unless "season" tickets are purchased—one for each person requiring accommodations. These tickets cost for the best seats, in Sweden, approximately $35.—and are good for all events from June 10th to 17th inclusive. They felt that this was the only way in which rooms could be kept open for those who generally wish to follow the games and I suppose in view of the tight situations this may be all to the good. At Grand Hotel they indicated that an advance deposit of approximately $100.—per person will be requested and I suppose other hotels will be proportionately lower.

It occurred to me that you might wish to advise those who have already received my little booklet to make their reservations in the above manner instead of contacting the hotel directly. I only hope that in spite of the above the information outlined in the booklet will be of some use to the friends of the U. S. Equestrian Team.

Sincerely yours,

Sigfrid K. Lonegren

Long Overdue

Dear Sir:

Our editorial suggesting that timber racing condition rules need some reconsideration to maintain attendance and enthusiasm struck me as long overdue.

I would like to offer a plea for those engaged in it, but unable to speak for themselves—the horses.

As regulated today, timber races can only be rightly described as horse butchery and, after a lifetime of close association, I hate to see them subjected to such callousness in the name of sport! Briefly then, I suggest that no entry be accepted for a timber race, unless the entry is accompanied with a Master of Fox Hounds certificate, stating that the entry has attended not less than 10 hunts during the current season and staved with the hounds on each occasion until they were called off.

Timber racing was, but no longer is, a genuine hunter race. It should be confined to hunters, and run at hunting speed over fair hunting country—not 4'6" to 5' post and rail fence. These no longer exist!

The speed enthusiasts should confine their interest to brush and hurdle racing.

Let us live up to what we profess—a deep interest in their welfare.

Respectfully

Reginald J. Vickers

Sincerely yours,

UPPERVILLE COLT AND HORSE SHOW

The first day of Upperville show was beautiful for showing. The conformation hunter race started with a battle between Shawnee Farms Jack Blandford, ridden by Garfield Harding—and Waverly Farms nice big chestnut, Sun Dial, ridden by Barbara Pease. The second day told a different story. The rain came in downpours. Boginod Farm's Ripple Boy, ridden by Frances Newbill, jumped brilliantly, in spite of the heavy mud, and won a blue in the appointment class to come out over Jack Blandford for the championship. Mrs. Simon Patterson's Gerald's Aide with Frances Newbill up won the ladies class.

The working hunters had a champion who had not much trouble maintaining his point lead. The ably performing Dusk and Dark, owned by Paul Fout and ridden by Eve Fout, jumped out ahead of Ellie Wood Keith on Mrs. C. McGhee Baxter's Long Road. Chasing closely behind the leaders were Morton W. Smith on his Guardsman, and Eve Fout on her Curist. Long Road took the working appointments class with Ellie Wood Keith up.

The 3-year old classes were large and crammed full of quality. Mr. John Pettibone's newly acquired Duke of Paonian, ridden by Robert Kearns, closely outpointed Bobby Drake on the Cummins-Chicago Corporation's beautiful jumping Corpond, whose sire is the well-known Cormac. Corpond won the in hand class for 3-year-olds.

Rigan McKinney had a tough job to do in the Thoroughbred breeding classes. Winner of a tremendous yearling class was Blue Ridge Farm's colt by Hill Prince—Minnora by *Mahmoud. Second was Mrs. James L. Wiley's brown colt by Boss—BeeBusy by Crapshooter. An unbeaten colt of John Pettibone's was in for third—a chestnut by Happy Buckie—Good Selka by *Waygood. In the 2-year-old class Mr. James McCormick had a nice win with his Cameda by Ginoca—Alameda by Pompey.

His Nibs, ridden by Toni Brewer, and owned by Col. Maxwell Taylor galloped away with the small hunter tricolor.

BOOKS

THE BLOODSTOCK BREEDERS' REVIEW Vol. XLII (1953). Founded, Edited and published by The British Bloodstock Agency, Ltd., 26, Charing Cross Road, London, W.C. 2, England. 674 pp. 146 photographs.

The Bloodstock Breeders' Review, an illustrated annual devoted to the British Thoroughbred, is a very handsome leather and buckram bound volume, with photos excellently reproduced on top grade slick paper. As a reference this book is practically the English counterpart of our own American Racing Manual, giving coverage of the better class races of the year usually accompanied with a picture of the winner along with his pedigree and an interesting background sketch of his pedigree history. In addition, near the close of the book, are given the statistics for the season—breeders of winners, leading owners, leading winners, sires of winners, sires of winning 2-year-olds, winning sires arranged in family groups, sires of sprinters and stayers, sires of jumpers, British-bred winners in all parts of the world, and the like.

Then too, there are entertainingly written reviews of racing in other countries, with particular emphasis on how the English Thoroughbred made out. Among the countries reviewed are, Ireland, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Kenya, Jamaica, Ceylon, Malaya, Europe, North America, South America, and just about every place a British Thoroughbred has raced or might race.

For those who are the least bit international minded in their racing or breeding the Bloodstock Breeders Review should have a place of prominence in their library. —K.K.

IRISH HUNTING by Muriel Bowen, Illustrated by Lionel Edwards, The Kerryman Ltd., Tralee, Ireland, pp. xvi., 222. Obtainable from Sydney Smith, Canaan, New York. Price—$3.00.

This book is the Irish equivalent of Higginson and Chamberlain's "Hunting in the United States and Canada", a work which badly needs a new edition, the last having been published in 1928. Miss Bowen gives a short history and present day description of 34 packs of foxhounds and harriers (most of which hunt foxes as well) which now hunt the hills and dales of the Emerald Isle. She quotes Gervase Markham on the Irish horse in 1616—"a fine head, good limbs, sure foot, a lively (sic) courage, but much given to frights and boggarts." She has some tall tales to tell, such as the one about the fox which took refuge from the hounds in the glass china cabinet of a lady's drawing room from which he was extracted next day by the Master without damage to a single piece of china. She speaks of the Boxing Day meet of the Carberry, the pack of which Edith Somerville, author of "The Reminiscences of an Irish R.M." was once Master. The meet was held during the height of "The Trouble", but such was the passion of the countryside for foxhunting that for that day British military and naval officers and Irish Republican and Free State officers were out in force and hunted Charles James instead of one another. She notes that there have been only 4 Masters of the Carlow in 144 years. These and similar bits make the book quite as entertaining as it is useful to anyone contemplating a hunting tour of Ireland.

Title, A HORSEMAN THROUGH SIX REIGNS. By Horace Smith. 1955. Illustrated by Photographs. 224 pp. Odhams Press Limited. Long Acre, London, England. Price, 15 shillings—net.

The World of Horace ("Cadogan") Smith, central figure of this fine collection of memoirs, covering a period of 75 years and through six reigns in England, can best be described as "Horsy" to use Mr. Smith's own expression. Horses of all descriptions have passed through his experienced dealers hands, in fact some twelve thousand of them, ranging all the way from the lowly milk waggon cob to Queen Elizabeth's first mount for the Trooping of the Colors of the Guards Brigade at Whitehall.

The early chapters of this book are very readable, describing as they do the transplanting of a farm family from the country to the hurly burly of 1860 London; of how and why a retail milk business was forsaken for horse dealing by a shrewd grandfather; of his early misfortunes and of his eventual success; of the spreading out of a one horse business until it had reached the astronomical figure of 650 horses by 1900. The grandson (Horace Smith) takes the reader through the years at his grandfather's side until eventually he takes over the thriving business himself. From here on the book goes fully into descriptions of V. I. P. customers including all of the then crowned heads of Europe. There are several chapters devoted to driving, showing, judging, teaching, foxhunting, in fact no phase of horses or horsemanship has been neglected.

The book is well worth reading, if for no other reason than that it gives one an insight into what must have been a tremendous business from the dealers point of view in the 1800's. The photographs with which the book is well illustrated are splendid and as Confucius say's one picture is worth 20,000 words.

three-quarters of a length over Rico Romance and Rico Reto was fourth, another three-quarters back.

Myrtle's Jet burst from the gate first and was on the head end for a bit more than a quarter of a mile, when Smart Devil displaced her. High Voltage was moving up steadily and gained second place with three-eighths of a mile to go. She was a head on top at the stretch call and had Smart Devil beaten. But Hen Party and Rico Romance were coming on and very much in the race. It was tight right down to the wire.

Arcaro rode High Voltage.

The daughter of *Ambiorix—Dynamo, by Menow, collected $37,040 for Wheatley in this one and brought her season's total to $123,090. Last season she earned $167,825. For further particulars, see June 3 issue of The Chronicle.

Monmouth Park

Mrs. George D. Widener's Evening Out collected the main end of the Purse in Monmouth's Regret Handicap, on June 18. The four-year-old filly was racking up her first 1955 stakes win and gave her backers a reward of $16.60 for $2 in so doing. The favored Gandharva finished second, with Another World third and To Cash fourth.

The winner's share of the purse and stakes totaled $16,700. This brought the earnings of the daughter of Shut Out (from Evening Belle, by Eight Thirty) to $21,450 for the year. She has won 2 and been third once in 5 races.

Last season, she won $70,150, with 4 victories, a second and 2 thirds in 8 starts. The Monmouth Oaks was her only stakes win.

Mrs. Widener bred Evening Out and J. Greevy handles the training assignment.

Sam Boulmetis was in the saddle for the Regret.

Mrs. Irving Gushen sent her Star Rover all the way from New England to Monmouth Park to have a shot at the Select Stakes, but few took notice. The gray colt ran down the favorite, Commonwealth, after a quarter of a mile and continued on to take the race by two lengths over Impromptu. The winner earned $17,200 for Mrs. Gunshen plus $33.60 for every two dollars she or trainer E. Anspach invested.

W. Blum rode the son of *Flushing II—Miss Moonbeam, by *Pharamond II.

Mr. Gushen (the lady's husband) is the breeder of Star Rover.

Narragansett Park

Amyr Bey won the King Philip Handicap at Narragansett on June 18. The French-bred son of Bey—Kigoma, by Dastur, won $10,800 for owner J. P. Caval. He was the favorite in the race at even money.

Isle of Bond finished second, Sonic was third and Pipe of Peace fourth.

L. V. Garrity trains the four-year-old colt. M. Wilder rode him.

The Aga Khan bred Amyr Bey.

Hollywood Park

Porterhouse registered in the Lakes and Flowers on June 18. Carmel collected the $11,175 first money in the Nursery Stakes on June 14.

SHOW WINNERS

The twin daughters of the chairman of the American Express, New York, the Misses Alisha and Marcia Bradford, have been keen supporters of hunting and show jumping since they came to live in Ireland two years ago. At St. Mary's College gymkhana, Kenilworth Square, May 22, Marcia's Paleface tied for 1st. with Mr. John Bermingham's Ballybrian for the Glenside Challenge Jumping Cup, (Grade "B" Horses); and won the Wilson Cup for Novice jumpers.

M. F. H. ASSN. CORRECTION

In our issue of April 29 we published a notice as to the History of the Masters of Foxhounds Association which is being compiled by A. Henry Higginson of Stinsford House, Dorchester Dorset, England. It was there stated that the book would be completed in time for the 50th Anniversary Meeting in 1956. This was, of course, in error since the Association was founded in 1907. The book is therefore planned to appear early in 1957.

SHOW JUMPING

It seems that an internal struggle of some intensity is developing between nationalism and internationalism in show jumping; and, curiously enough, the same symptoms have been observable in the U. S. A. for some time past. It is not really a question of F. E. I. versus national rules; cogent arguments can be brought in favour of both, but your top modern show jumper is now equally at home under either code. The issue is economic. Our national show jumping riders are either actually or virtually professional; whether as owners or riders they have to make their jumping pay, which the present huge field of national shows enables most of them to do. For this, and other reasons, they are losing interest in the international angle. The honour of jumping for England does not compensate for the money lost while doing so. Consequently it is going to become more difficult to produce the type of team we need to win abroad this year and to retain our Olympic title in 1956. As Colonel Llewellyn pointed out, our nation's cup wins lately have been on our home ground—White City, Blackpool, and Dublin: abroad we have not shone so brightly. It is essential for the good of the sport that this tension between the national and international elements should be resolved during the coming year, for which the utmost understanding and diplomacy will be needed. (Reprinted from the June issue of "The Light Horse"—England).

THOMAS NEIL DARLING

It is with regret that we report the death of Mr. Darling, for many years Middleburg, Virginia's outstanding photographer. Mr. Darling died on June 17 after a long and successful career. He was the contributor of many horse pictures for The Chronicle since its inception and he will be missed by his many friends.

VERSATILE

Margaret L. Smith, who covers most of the horse shows and other equine activities for the Lancaster (Pa.) Intelligencer Journal, and reports many central Pennsylvania horse shows for The Chronicle, was the first prize winner in editorial writing in the Annual Writing Awards Contest of the Pennsylvania Women's Press Association.

The editorial was about a school board, and the judge was John Ackelmire, editorial page director of the Indianapolis, Ind., News.

PAINTING PRESENTED

Mr. James Strohm, president of the Pacific Coast Hunter and Jumper Association recently presented the West Hills Hunt Club with a large hunting scene painted in oils by Miss Shirley Rousseau. The painting will hang in the West Hills club house.

WEEK-END TRIP

Janet Allison of Houston had herself a wonderful trip recently. She was the recipient of a call from St. Louis to come and ride Funny Man who was until recently one of the Parish Stables horses and Janet had ridden him to great success in the Texas Circuit. So off she took by plane and had a wonderful time showing him at the Bridlespur Show. Won the junior hunter championship, working hunter hack and several other ribbons too, we hear. And the good part of it was that she left Texas after school Friday and was back in school Monday afternoon.

DESERVES MEDAL

When Marilyn Michel at the Columbus Horse Show had a bit of trouble in the in-and-out and stepped off her horse, her foot was caught in the reins and threw her off balance. It could have made a terrible accident, but her ever faithful horse stood still as a stone and all turned out well. Although the horse wasn't the show champion, he certainly deserves a medal for his good sense.

MARKED INCREASE

A marked increase in the number of 1955 horse shows, with 291 scheduled as of June 1st as against 272 at the same time last year, has just been announced by the American Horse Shows Association. With the 1955 season not yet half over there are 16,511 recorded entries as compared with 14,821 at this date last year.

New horse shows recognized by the Association are also up, with 51 new shows listed as against 42 at this time in 1954. Individual Association members have increased from 2,986 to 3,078.

Entries in eastern horse shows are up 15 percent, western shows are up 13 percent, and southern shows have increased nine percent while prize money is 15 percent higher than last year. Sharp gains have also been noted in classes for hunters and jumpers, Morgan, parade, western and walking horses, hackneys and other ponies, and roadsters.

Junior classes have likewise shown great increases this season, with stock seat equitation up 61 percent and hunter seat equitation up 32 percent, while other competition for junior riders is 14 percent ahead of last year. Breeding classes surpass those of 1954 by 81 percent.

Beagles at Myopia

The Myopia Hunt Committee has announced that through the kindness of the Masters of the Sir Sister Beagles, Mrs. Jane E. Dane and Mr. Henri Prunaret, there will be regular beagling meets in the Myopia country this coming season. The pack will be kept at the Myopia Hunt Kennels. The Joint Masters or their deputy will hunt the pack and be responsible for its control. In addition to the regular use of beagles for foot followers, the pack will be used in conjunction with mounted events and for members of the North Shore Pony Club. A family subscription between $15 and $25 will be asked depending upon the degree of response. The Myopia country was for many years hunted by hunters, was entitled to the brush, and the second to touch the body was the rightful claimant of the mask. The last few minutes of many runs were wild scrambles among contestants for the honors of the day. Some of us can recall hill Nimrods urging on beaten horses, and yelling in not very venatic language 'My tail! My tail!'.

Mrs. Una Strickland, (who as Miss Bell of Robin Hood's Bay, was a regular follower of the Staintondale), writes to me from Kent:

"About sixty years ago the Staintondale and Goathland joined forces and the united pack killed their fox. I remember as a girl, John Newton of Thorney Brow, telling me that the Goathland and Staintondale huntsmen could not agree as to which pack was first in and responsible for pulling down the fox, and which huntsman had the right to dispose him in covert, and was quickly off my horse. Hounds had broken up their fox, but, as luck would have it, had let the brush and mask lying close, together, so I picked them up before Firr came, putting the brush in my pocket as I wanted to take it to the Duke, and was afraid one of the field would ask for it. As Firr made no claim, I said "Here you are Tom, you take the mask, as your hounds helped to kill the fox". A moment later I heard him 'tally-hoing' and 'who-whoing' in the central ride, with every hound round him, & the field looking on, under the impression it was his I slipped out of the covert, ran about 50 yds down the fence, blowing my horn & waving the brush about. In a moment all the hounds left Tom and came to me, so I cheered and hallooed them till I thought he had heard enough. He said "We had better go to your gate and draw out our hounds." I jumped on my horse, called 'Come on, my lads! & every one of my hounds came to my horse's heels, including one couple of the Quorn, which I had the pleasure of returning next day. Mr. J. Coupland begged hard for the brush, saying he would give anything to possess it as a memento of so remarkable run for we had covered 26 miles of country. I let him have it, but as the Duke of Rutland expressed a wish next day to have it, I wrote to Mr. Coupland, who returned it, so that I had it set up in a case".

MASK AND BRUSH CLAIMS

On more than one occasion last season both the Cleveland and Goathland have been joined by the Glaisdale when running their foxes. Sport has continued and ended quite amicably. It was otherwise, however, when there was very considerable competition for the brush, jealousy as to its disposal, and unwritten law regarding the rightful claimants of the coveted trophies of the chase. "I'll be first in the rush and ride hard for his brush," ran the chorus of an ancient hunting song and the general rule with many Hunts up to half a century ago (not quite obsolete with small moorland packs today), was that the first to touch the fox prior to 'who-whoop!' from the of the trophies. They had a set to with fists to decide the important matter. Famous old Tommy Harrison of the Staintondale, I believe won".

In his reminiscences Frank Gillard the famous Belvoir huntsman, tells an interesting story of the even greater Tom Firr, of the Quorn, clashing with their respective packs. "Tally-ho!" shouted Firr "that's my fox." "Now Tom, behave yourself," said Gillard, who was on Quorn soil, "I shall be very angry, Tom, if you don't let my fox alone. You know you had no line into this covert". The two packs settled further argument by opening on the line, rattling the fox out of covert as they went away together. They killed him after hunting together for one hour and five minutes. Gillard continues "I could hear hounds savaging
